SECTION 4 | Beneficiary Designation Information

At the time of my death, the primary beneficiaries named below will receive my IRA assets. If all of my primary beneficiaries die before me, the contingent beneficiaries named below will receive my IRA assets. In the event a beneficiary dies before me, such beneficiaries share will be reallocated on a pro-rata basis to the other beneficiaries that share the deceased beneficiaries classification as a primary or contingent beneficiary. If all of the beneficiaries die before me, my IRA assets will be paid to my estate. If no percentages are assigned to beneficiaries, the beneficiaries will share equally. If the percentage total for each beneficiary classification does not equal 100%, any remaining percentage will be divided equally among the beneficiaries within such class. This designation revokes and supersedes all earlier beneficiary designations which may apply to this IRA.

REQUIREMENTS OF A ROTH IRA

A. CASH CONTRIBUTIONS - Your contribution must be in cash unless it is a rollover contribution.

B. MAXIMUM CONTRIBUTION - The total amount you may contribute to a Roth IRA for any taxable year cannot exceed the lesser of 100 percent of your compensation or $7,000 for year 2024 AND 2025, with possible cost-of-living adjustments thereafter. If you also maintain a Traditional IRA, (i.e., an IRA subject to the limits of Internal Revenue Code Section (IRC Sec.) 408 (a) or 408 (b)), the maximum contribution to your Roth IRAs is reduced by any contributions you make to your Traditional IRA. Your total annual contribution to all Traditional IRAs and Roth IRAs cannot exceed the lesser of the dollar amounts described above or your taxable compensation for the year.

Your Roth IRA contribution is further limited by your modified adjusted gross income (MAGI).

For 2025, your Roth IRA contribution limit is reduced (phase out) in the following circumstances:

- Your filing status is married filing jointly or qualifying widow(er) and your modified AGI is at least $236,000. You cannot make a Roth IRA contribution if your modified AGI is $246,000 or more.
- Your filing status is single, head of household, or married filing separately and you did not live with your spouse at any time in 2025 and your modified AGI is at least $150,000. You cannot make a Roth IRA contribution if your modified AGI is $165,000 or more.
- Your filing status is married filing separately, you lived with your spouse at any time during the year, and your modified AGI is more than -0-. You cannot make a Roth IRA contribution if your modified AGI is $10,000 or more.

For 2024, your Roth IRA contribution limit is reduced (phase out) in the following circumstances:

- Your filing status is married filing jointly or qualifying widow(er) and your modified AGI is at least $230,000. You cannot make a Roth IRA contribution if your modified AGI is $240,000 or more.
- Your filing status is single, head of household, or married filing separately and you did not live with your spouse at any time in 2024 and your modified AGI is at least $146,000. You cannot make a Roth IRA contribution if your modified AGI is $161,000 or more.
- Your filing status is married filing separately, you lived with your spouse at any time during the year, and your modified AGI is more than -0-. You cannot make a Roth IRA contribution if your modified AGI is $10,000 or more.

Refer to IRS Publication 590 for further detailed information on the calculation of your Roth Contribution amount.

C. CONTRIBUTION ELIGIBILITY - You are eligible to make a regular contribution to your Roth IRA, regardless of your age, if you have compensation and your MAGI is below the maximum threshold. Your Roth contribution is not limited by your participation in a retirement plan, other than by contributions made to your Traditional IRA.

D. CATCH-UP CONTRIBUTIONS - If you are age 50 or older by the close of the taxable year, you can make catch-up contributions to your traditional or Roth IRA up to $1,000 in 2024 and 2025, with possible cost-of-living adjustments thereafter.

E. NONFORFEITABILITY - Your interest in your Roth IRA is non-forfeitable.

F. ELIGIBLE CUSTODIANS - The Custodian of your Roth IRA must be a bank, savings and loan association, credit union, or a person or entity approved by the Secretary of the Treasury.

G. COMMINGLING ASSETS - The assets of your Roth IRA cannot be commingled with other property except in a common trust fund or common investment fund.

H. LIFE INSURANCE - No portion of your Roth IRA may be invested in life insurance contracts.

I. COLLECTIBLES - You may not invest the assets of your Roth IRA in collectibles (within the meaning of IRC Sec. 408(m)). A collectible is defined as any work of art, rug or antique, metal or gem, stamp or coin, alcoholic beverage, or other tangible personal property specified by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). However, minted United States gold and silver coins, and certain state-issued coins are permissible investments. Platinum coins and certain gold, silver, platinum, or palladium bullion (as described in IRC Sec 408(m)(3)) are also permitted as Roth IRA investments.

J. REQUIRED MINIMUM DISTRIBUTIONS - You are not required to take distributions from your Roth IRA at any age. The minimum distribution rules that apply to traditional IRAs do not apply to the Roth IRAs while the owner is alive. However, after the death of a Roth IRA owner, certain of the minimum distribution rules that apply to traditional IRAs also apply to Roth IRAs. You cannot use your Roth IRA to satisfy minimum distribution requirements for your traditional IRA. Nor can you use distributions from traditional IRAs for required distributions from Roth IRAs.

Required minimum distributions (RMD) after the account owner dies.

After the owner dies the RMD will depend on the identity of the beneficiary.

Determining the distribution period for beneficiaries.

Designated beneficiaries (individuals) must withdraw the entire account balance by the end of the calendar year containing the 10th anniversary of your death. However, if a designated beneficiary is an "eligible designated beneficiary" (EDB), such beneficiary may generally take their distributions over the beneficiary's life expectancy. An EDB includes a surviving spouse, a disabled individual, a chronically ill individual, a minor child, or an individual who is not more than 10 years younger than the account owner. Certain trusts created for the exclusive benefit of disabled or chronically ill beneficiaries are included. However, minor children must take any remaining amount in the IRA within 10 years of reaching age 21. All amounts must be distributed within 10 years of the death of the EDB.

Additionally, a surviving spouse beneficiary may generally delay commencement of distributions until the end of the year that the IRA owner would have attained the applicable age. A surviving spouse may be able to determine, in accordance with IRS rules and regulations, their required minimum distributions using the Uniform Lifetime Table. A surviving spouse can also elect to treat the IRA as their own. In certain circumstances, the spouse may have to take a "hypothetical RMD" before treating the IRA as their own.

Non-designated beneficiaries (e.g., estates and most trusts) must withdraw the entire account by the end of the year containing the 5th anniversary of your death.

See IRS Pub. 590-B, Distributions from Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs), for help calculating the required minimum distributions.

Consequences for failing to take required minimum distribution.

If your beneficiary does not take any required minimum distribution, or if the distribution is not large enough, your beneficiary may have to pay a 25% excise tax on the amount not distributed as required. This tax can be reduced to 10% if the failure is corrected within a prescribed timeframe and certain other requirements are satisfied. To report the excise tax, file Form 5329, Additional Taxes on Qualified Plans (including IRAs) and Other Tax-Favored Accounts with the beneficiary's tax return. See Form 5329 instructions for additional information.

INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES OF ESTABLISHING A ROTH IRA

A. CONTRIBUTIONS NOT DEDUCTED - No deduction is allowed for Roth IRA contributions, including transfers, rollovers, and conversion contributions.

B. CONTRIBUTION DEADLINE - The deadline for making the IRA contribution is your tax return due date (not including extensions). You may designate a contribution as contributions for the preceding taxable year in a manner acceptable. For example, if you are a calendar-year taxpayer and you make your Roth IRA contribution on or before your tax filing deadline, your contribution is considered to have been made for the previous tax year if you designate it as such.

C. TAX CREDIT FOR CONTRIBUTIONS - You may be eligible to receive a tax credit for your Roth IRA contributions. This credit will be allowed in addition to any tax deduction that may apply and may not exceed $1,000 in a given year. You may be eligible for this tax credit if you are:

1. Age 18 or older as of the close of the taxpayer; and/or
2. Not a dependent of another taxpayer; and/or
3. Not a full-time student.

Beginning in years after 2026, the credit will be replaced with a "saver's Match" that could result in a government contribution to a traditional IRA on your behalf. (The Saver's Match cannot be contributed to a Roth IRA.)

D. EXCESS CONTRIBUTIONS - An excess IRA contribution occurs if you contribute more than the contribution limit or make an improper rollover or transfer contribution to an IRA. Excess contributions are taxed at 6% per year for each year and the excess amounts remains in the IRA. The tax cannot be more than 6% of the combined value of all you IRAs as of the end of the tax year. To avoid the 6% tax on excess contributions, you must withdraw the excess contributions from your IRA by the due date of your individual income tax return (including extensions (and any income earned on the excess contributions). The income earned on the excess contribution must be included in your gross income for the year in which the excess contribution was made, but the 10% additional tax will not apply. To report the excise tax, file Form 5329, Additional Taxes on Qualified Plans (including IRAs) and Other Tax-Favored Accounts with your tax return. See Form 5329 instructions for additional information about this tax.

E. TAX-DEFERRED EARNINGS - The investment earnings of your Roth IRA are not subject to federal income tax as they accumulate in your Roth IRA. In addition, distributions of your Roth IRA earnings will be free from federal income tax if you take a "qualified distribution".

F. TAXATION OF DISTRIBUTIONS - The taxation of Roth IRA distributions depends on whether the distribution is a qualified distribution or a non-qualified distribution.

1. Qualified Distribution. A qualified distribution is any payment or distribution from your Roth IRA that meets the following requirements:
  - a. It is made after the 5-year period beginning with the first taxable year for which a contribution was made to a Roth IRA set up for your benefit, and
  - b. The payment or distribution is made on or after the date you reach age 59 ½, made because you are disabled, made to a beneficiary or to your estate after your death, or the purchase of a first home.
2. Non-Qualified Distribution. If you receive a distribution that is not a qualified distribution, you may have to pay the 10 percent additional tax on early distributions. There is a set order in which contributions (including conversion contributions and rollover contributions from qualified retirement plans) and earnings are considered distributed from your Roth IRA. For these purposes, disregard the withdrawal of excess contributions and the earnings on them. Or the distributions as follows:
  - a. Regular contributions
  - b. Conversion and rollover contributions, on a first-in, first-out basis (generally, total conversions and rollovers from the earliest first year). Take these conversion and rollover contributions into account as follows:
    - Taxable portion (the amount required to be included in gross income because of the conversion or rollover) first, and then the
    - Nontaxable portion
  - c. Earnings on contributions

Disregard rollover contributions from other Roth IRAs for this purpose. You generally must file a Form 8606 if you receive a distribution from a Roth IRA. See IRS Publication 590-B for more detailed information.

G. CHARITABLE DISTRIBUTIONS - A qualified charitable distribution (QCD) is generally a nontaxable distribution made directly by the custodian of your IRA to an organization eligible to receive tax-deductible contributions. You must be at least 70 ½ when the distribution was made. The maximum annual exclusion for QCDs is $108,000 (2025). Any QCD excess of the exclusion limit is included in income as any other distribution. In addition, you may be able to exclude from your gross income a one-time distribution up to $54,000 (2025) from your IRA to a "split-interest entity" (as defined IRC sec. 408(d)). These amounts will be indexed for inflation annually. For further information see IRS Publication 590-B.

H. INCOME TAX WITHHOLDING - Taxable distributions from your IRA are subject to federal income tax withholding. In some circumstances, you may, however, elect not to have withholding apply to your IRA distribution. Regardless of whether you elect not to have federal income tax withheld, you are still liable for payment of federal income tax on the taxable portion of your distribution.

I. EARLY DISTRIBUTION PENALTY TAX - To discourage the use of retirement funds for purposes other than retirement, the law imposes a 10% additional tax on certain early distributions from certain retirement plans. The additional tax is equal to 10% of the portion of the distribution that is includible in income. Generally, early distributions are those you receive from a qualified retirement plan or deferred annuity contract before reaching age 59 ½. There are certain exceptions to this 10% additional tax. The following exceptions apply to distributions from an IRA:

1. Distributions made to your beneficiary or estate on or after your death;
2. Distributions made because you are totally or permanently disabled;
3. Distributions made as part of a series of substantially equal periodic payments over your life expectancy or the life expectancies of you and your designated beneficiary;
4. Distributions to the extent you have unreimbursed deductible medical expenses that exceed 7.5% of your AGI whether or not you itemize your deductions for the year;
5. Distributions are for the cost of your medical insurance due to a period of unemployment;
6. Distributions made due to an IRS levy of the plan under section 6331;
7. Distributions made to buy, build, or rebuild a first home;
8. Distributions that are qualified reservist distributions. Generally, these are distributions made to individuals that are called to active duty for at least 180 days after September 11, 2001;
9. Distributions made to you because you have been certified as having terminal illness;
10. Distributions for qualified higher education expenses;
11. Distribution is a qualified birth or adoption distribution;
12. Distribution is an emergency savings withdrawal for up to $1,000;
13. Distribution is a domestic abuse victim distribution of up to $10,000 (indexed for inflation); and
14. Distribution is a qualified disaster distribution or qualified disaster recovery distribution.

These exceptions are subject to special rules, including rules that allow for repayment of certain distributions if such repayments are made within 3 years of the distribution. Consult your tax advisor to determine if you qualify for one of the exceptions listed above and whether you may be able to repay the distribution. You must file IRS Form 5329 along with your income tax return to the IRS to report and remit any additional taxes or to claim an exception to the additional tax.

J. ROLLOVERS AND CONVERSIONS - You may be able to convert amounts from either a traditional, SEP, or SIMPLE IRA into a Roth IRA. You may be able to roll over amounts from a qualified retirement plan to a Roth IRA. You may be able to re-characterize contributions made to one IRA as having been made directly to a different IRA. You can roll amounts over from a designated Roth account or from one Roth IRA to another Roth IRA. You can make only one rollover from an IRA to another (or the same) IRA in any 12-month period, regardless of the number of IRAs you own. You can, however, continue to make tax-free trustee-to-trustee transfers between Roth IRAs as you want. You can also make as many rollovers from Traditional IRAs to Roth IRAs as you want. You can also make as many rollovers from Traditional IRAs to Roth IRAs ("conversions") as you want. If you have any questions regarding a rollover or conversion, please consult a tax advisor. Rollovers from retirement plans other than Roth IRAs are disregarded for the 1-year waiting period between rollovers. A rollover from a Roth IRA to an employer retirement plan is not allowed.

1. Roth IRA to Roth IRA Rollovers. You can withdraw, tax free, all or part of the assets from one Roth IRA if you contribute them within 60 days to another Roth IRA. If you roll over an amount from one Roth IRA to another Roth IRA, the 5-year period used to determine qualified distributions does not change. The 5-year period begins with the first taxable year for which the contribution was made to the initial Roth IRA. Please note that your rollover, from one IRA to another IRA, must consist of the same property; otherwise, the distribution will be taxable as ordinary income. For example, you cannot take cash distributions from your Roth IRA, purchase other assets with the cash and then roll those assets over into a new (or the same) Roth IRA.
2. Traditional to Roth IRA Conversions. You can convert a traditional IRA to a Roth IRA. The conversion is treated as a rollover, regardless of the conversion method used. You can convert amounts from a traditional IRA to a Roth IRA in any of the following three ways:
  - Rollover. You can receive a distribution from a traditional IRA and roll it over (contribute it) to a Roth IRA within 60 days after the distribution.
  - Trustee-to-trustee transfer. You can direct the trustee of the traditional IRA to transfer an amount from the traditional IRA to the trustee of the Roth IRA.
  - Same trustee transfer. If the trustee of the traditional IRA also maintains the Roth IRA, you can direct the trustee to transfer an amount from the traditional IRA to the Roth IRA. Conversion made with the same trustee can be made by redesignating the traditional IRA as a Roth IRA, rather than opening a new account or issuing a new contract. You must include in your gross income distributions made from a traditional IRA that you would have had to include in income if you had not converted them into a Roth IRA. These amounts are normally included in income on your return for the year that you converted them from a traditional IRA to a Roth IRA.

If you are age 70½ or older you must remove your required minimum distribution prior to converting your traditional IRA. You must include in your gross income distributions made from a traditional IRA that you would have had to include in income if you had not converted them into a Roth IRA. These amounts are normally included in income on your return for the year that you converted them from a traditional IRA to a Roth IRA. Although the conversion amount is generally included in income, the 10 percent early distribution additional tax will apply to conversions from a Traditional IRA to a Roth IRA, regardless of whether you qualify for any exceptions to the 10 percent additional tax, unless you take a distribution from our Roth IRA within 5 years of the conversion.

3. SIMPLE IRA to Roth IRA Conversions. You are eligible to convert all or any portion of your existing savings incentive match plan for employees of small employers (SIMPLE) IRA(s) into your Roth IRA(s), provided two years have passed since you first participated in a SIMPLE IRA plan sponsored by your employer. If you are age 70½ or older you must remove your required minimum distribution prior to converting your SIMPLE IRA. The amount of the conversion from your SIMPLE IRA to your Roth IRA shall be treated as a distribution for income tax purposes and is includible in your gross income. Although the conversion amount is generally included in income, the 10 percent early distribution penalty shall not apply to conversions from a SIMPLE IRA to a Roth IRA, regardless of whether you qualify for any exceptions to the 10 percent additional tax unless you take a distribution from your Roth IRA within 5 years of the conversion.
4. Rollover from Employer's Plan into a Roth IRA. You can rollover into a Roth IRA all or part of an eligible rollover distribution you receive from your (or your deceased spouse's), Employer's qualified pension, profit-sharing, or stock bonus plan (including a 401(k) plan); annuity plan; tax-sheltered annuity plan (IRC Sec. 403(b) plan); or governmental deferred compensation plan (IRC Sec. 457 plan). Any amount rolled over is subject to the same rules for converting a traditional IRA into a Roth IRA. The rollover contribution must meet the rollover requirements that apply to the specific type of retirement plan.
5. Beneficiary Rollovers from Designated Roth Accounts. If you are a designated beneficiary of a deceased employee, you can rollover all or part of an eligible rollover distribution from a designated Roth Account into a Roth IRA. You must make the rollover by a direct trustee-to-trustee transfer into an inherited Roth IRA. The IRA must be maintained as an inherited IRA, subject to the beneficiary minimum distribution requirements (described above).
6. Rollover of Military Death Benefits. If you received a military death gratuity or Service-members' Group Life Insurance (SGLI) payment with respect to a death from injury that occurred after October 6, 2001, you can contribute (roll over) all or part of the amount received to your Roth IRA. The contribution is treated as a qualified rollover contribution. The amount you can roll over to your Roth IRA cannot exceed the total amount that you received reduced by any part of that amount that was contributed to a Coverdell ESA or another Roth IRA. Any military death gratuity or SGLI payment contributed to a Roth IRA is disregarded for purposes of the 1-year waiting period between rollovers. The rollover must be completed before the end of the 1-year period beginning on the date you received the payment. The amount contributed to your Roth IRA is treated as part of your cost basis (investment in the contract) in the Roth IRA that is not taxable when distributed.
7. 529 Plan to Roth IRA Rollovers. Beginning after 2023, certain amounts transferred as a direct rollover from a 529 plan to a Roth IRA maintained for the 529 accounts' s designated beneficiary are exempt from tax, including the 10% additional tax for a premature distributions, as long as certain conditions are satisfied. These 529 rollover contributions will reduce the 529 plan beneficiary's regular contribution limit for the year of the rollover. You should consult your tax advisor before attempting such a rollover.
8. Transfer Due to Divorce. If all or any part of your Roth IRA is awarded to your spouse or former spouse in a divorce or legal separation proceedings, the amount so awarded will be treated as the spouse's Roth IRA (and may be transferred pursuant to a court-approved divorce decree or written legal separation agreement to another Roth IRA of your spouse) and will not be considered a taxable distribution to you. A transfer is a tax-free direct movement of cash and/or property from one Roth IRA to another.
9. Re-characterizations. You may be able to treat a contribution made to one type of IRA as having been made a different type of IRA. This is called re-characterizing the contribution. To re-characterize contribution, you generally must have the contribution transferred from the first IRA (the one to which it was made) to the second IRA in a trustee-to-trustee transfer. If the transfer is made by the due date (including extensions) for your tax return for the tax year during which the contribution was made, you can elect to treat the contribution as having been originally made to the second IRA instead of the first IRA. You may not recharacterize a traditional IRA to Roth IRA conversion. If you re-characterize your contribution, you must do all three of the following:
  - a. Include in the transfer any net income allocable to the contribution. If there was a loss, the net income you must transfer may be a negative amount.
  - b. Report the re-characterization on your tax return for the year during which the contribution was made.
  - c. Treat the contribution as having been made to the second IRA on the date that it was actually made to the first IRA.

LIMITATIONS AND RESTRICTIONS

- A. SPOUSAL IRA - If you are married and have compensation, you may contribute to an IRA established for the benefit of your spouse for any year, regardless of whether your spouse has compensation. You must file a joint income tax return for the year for which the contribution is made. The amount you may contribute to your IRA and your spouse's IRA is the lesser of 100% of your compensation or $7,000 to the IRA in your name and spouse's IRA, bringing the total annual retirement contribution to $14,000 (for 2024 and 2025). For those over the age of 50, the numbers are $8,000 per account, for a total of $16,000 (for 2024 and 2025). However, you may not contribute more than the individual contribution limit to each IRA.
- B. SPECIAL TAX TREATMENT - Capital gains treatment and 10-year forward income averaging authorized by IRC Sec. 402 do not apply to IRA distributions.
- C. PROHIBITED TRANSACTIONS - If you or your beneficiary engages in a prohibited transaction in connection with your IRA account at any time during the year, the account stops being an IRA as of the first day of that year. The account is treated as distributing all its assets to you at their fair market value. If the total of those values is more than your basis in the IRA, you will have taxable gain that is includible in your income. In addition, certain excise taxes may apply. A prohibited transaction is any improper use of your IRA account or annuity by you, your beneficiary, or any disqualified person. Disqualified persons include your fiduciary and members of your family (spouse, ancestor, lineal descendent, and any spouse of a lineal descendant). Examples of prohibited transactions with an IRA include borrowing money from it, selling property to it, using it as security for a loan, and buying property for personal use (present or future). If an IRA is disqualified, each IRA of the individual is treated as a separate contract.
- D. PLEDGING - If you use a part of your Roth IRA account as security for a loan, that part is treated as a distribution and is included in your gross income.

OTHER

- A. IRS PLAN APPROVAL - The Agreement used to establish this Roth IRA has been approved by the IRS. The IRS approval is a determination only as to form. It is not an endorsement of the plan in operation or of the investments offered.
- B. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION - For additional information related to Roth Individual Retirement Arrangements, please contact your local IRS Office, call 1-800-TAX-FORM, or visit the IRS website at www.irs.gov. Additional information can be found in IRS Publication 590-A, IRS Publication 590-B, and Publication 560 - Retirement Plans for Small Business.
- C. PROCEDURES FOR OPENING A NEW ACCOUNT - To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person who opens an account. When you open an account, you are required to provide your name, residential address, date of birth, and social security number or appropriate tax identification number. We may require additional information that will allow us to identify you.
- D. The growth in the value of the IRA is neither guaranteed nor projected.

SECTION 9 | Preferred Trust Company Custodial Agreement

IRS Form 5305-RA (Rev. April 2017) Roth Individual Retirement Custodial Account under section 408(a) of the Internal Revenue Code

You (hereinafter "Depositor") are establishing a Roth individual retirement account (Roth IRA) under section 408(a) to provide for his or her retirement and for the support of his or her beneficiaries after death.

Preferred Trust Company, LLC (hereinafter "Custodian") has provided the depositor the disclosures statement required by Regulations section 1.408-6.

The Depositor has assigned the custodial account with the sum indicated on the Application.

The Depositor and the Custodian make the following agreement:

Article I

Except in the case of a qualified rollover contribution described in section 408A(e), a re-characterized contribution described in section 408A(d)(6), or an IRA Conversion Contribution, the custodian will accept only cash contributions up to $5,500 per year for tax years 2013 through 2017. For individuals who have reached the age of 50 by the end of the year, the contribution limit is increased to $6,500 per year for 2013 through 2017. For years after 2017, these limits will be increased to reflect a cost-of-living adjustment, if any.

Article II

1. The annual contribution limit described in Article I is gradually reduced to $0 for higher income levels. For a grantor who is single or treated as single, the annual contribution is phased out between adjusted gross income (AGI) of $118,000 and $133,000; for a married grantor filing jointly, between AGI of $186,000 and $196,000; and for a married grantor filing separately, between AGI of $0 and $10,000. These phase-out ranges are for 2017. For years after 2017, the phase-out ranges, except for the $0 to $10,000 range, will be increased to reflect a cost-of-living adjustment, if any. Adjusted gross income is defined in section 408A(c)(3).
2. In the case of a joint return, the AGI limits in the preceding paragraph apply to the combined AGI of the depositor and his or her spouse.

Article III

The depositor's interest in the balance in the custodial account is nonforfeitable.

Article IV

1. No part of the custodial account funds may be invested in life insurance contracts, nor may the assets of the custodial account be commingled with other property except in a common trust fund or common investment fund (within the meaning of section 408(a)(5)).
2. No part of the custodial account funds may be invested in collectibles (within the meaning of section 408(m)) except as otherwise permitted by section 408(m)(3), which provides an exception for certain gold, silver, and platinum coins, coins issued under the laws of any state, and certain bullion.

Article V

1. If the depositor dies before his or her entire interest is distributed to him or her and the depositor's surviving spouse is not the designated beneficiary, the remaining interest will be distributed in accordance with paragraph (a) below or, if elected or there is no designated beneficiary, in accordance with paragraph (b) below:
  - a. The remaining interest will be distributed, starting by the end of the calendar year following the year of the depositor's death, over the designated beneficiary's remaining life expectancy as determined in the year following the death of the depositor.
  - b. The remaining interest will be distributed by the end of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the depositor's death.
2. The minimum amount that must be distributed each year under paragraph 1(a) above is the account value at the close of business on December 31 of the preceding year divided by the life expectancy (in the single life table in the Regulations section 1.401(a)(9)-9) of the designated beneficiary using the attained age of the beneficiary in the year following the year of the depositor's death and subtracting 1 from the divisor for each subsequent year.
3. If the depositor's surviving spouse is the designated beneficiary, such spouse will then be treated as the depositor.

Article VI

1. The depositor agrees to provide the custodian with all information necessary to prepare any reports required by sections 408(i) and 408(d)(3)(E), Regulations sections 1.408-5 and 1.408-6, or other guidance published by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).
2. The custodian agrees to submit to the IRS and depositor the reports prescribed by the IRS.

Article VII

Notwithstanding any other articles which may be added or incorporated, the provision of Articles I through IV and this sentence will be controlling. Any additional articles inconsistent with section 408A, the related regulations, and other published guidance will be invalid.

Article VIII

This agreement will be amended as necessary to comply with the provisions of the Code, the related regulations, and other published guidance. Other amendments may be made with the consent of the persons whose signatures appear below.

We will not determine as to whether or not any IRA investment constitutes a prohibited transaction. In the event that your investment results in taxable income (unrelated or debt-financed) pursuant to IRC Section 511-514 in excess of the $1,000 exclusion (that amount may be adjusted) for any taxable year, you agree to prepare or have prepared the applicable IRS form, and any other documents that may be required, and to submit them to us, for filing with the Internal Revenue Service. You further represent and acknowledge to us that with respect to any listed or reportable transaction, you are considered the entity manager who approved or caused your Roth IRA to be a party to the transaction and that you are responsible for: reporting each such transaction to the Internal Revenue Service, using the applicable Roth IRA form, paying any applicable excise taxes, disclosing to the Roth IRA custodian that such transaction was a prohibited tax shelter transaction; and directing us as to any necessary corrective action to be taken by your Roth IRA. You acknowledge that the foregoing representations are being relied upon by us and you agree to indemnify us with respect to all costs, expenses (including attorney's fees), fines, penalties, liabilities, damages, actions, judgements, and claims arising out of the breach of the foregoing representations, including, without limitation, claims asserted by you.

- f. Investments and Applicable Securities Laws. You represent to us that if any investment by your Roth IRA is a security under applicable federal or state securities laws, said investment has been registered or is exempt from registration under federal and state securities laws; and you release and waive all claims against us for our role in processing your instructions with respect to said investment. Publicly traded securities shall be valued at their fair market value. If cost is not reflective of fair market value with respect to the assets held in your Roth IRA, you may provide us with a qualified independent valuation of such assets for purposes of determining an appropriate fee; and we will give consideration to such independent valuation. Our determination shall be binding and conclusive for purposes of Roth IRA fees based upon value.

- j. Earned Interest. Depositor hereby specifically acknowledges that cash in the Depositor's Roth IRA, which the Depositor has not yet directed to be invested, will be placed temporarily in an interest-bearing account of Custodian's choosing. Depositor further acknowledges that, until such time as Depositor provides instruction as to how funds are to be invested, Depositor funds not yet invested will earn interest at the market interest rate currently offered by the Custodian. Depositor acknowledges that such rate is not fixed and may be subject to fluctuation. Depositor's cash account will be credited at the end of each month for interest earned during the month at the current rate in effect. Withdrawals/Distributions will be subject to all applicable tax and other laws and regulations, including possible early withdrawal penalties or surrender charges and withholding requirements.

11. Transfers from other Plans.

We can receive amounts transferred to this Roth IRA from the custodian or trustee of another Roth IRA. In addition, we can accept direct rollovers of eligible rollover distributions from employer-sponsored retirement plans as permitted by Internal Revenue Code. We reserve the right not to accept any transfer or direct rollovers.

12. Liquidation of Assets.

- a. We have the right to liquidate assets in your Roth IRA if necessary to make distributions or to pay fees, expenses, indemnities, taxes, federal tax levies, penalties, or surrender charges properly chargeable against your Roth IRA. If you fail to direct us as to which assets to liquidate, we will decide, in our complete and sole discretion, and you agree not to hold us liable for any adverse consequences that result from our decision.
- b. In the event you fail to pay any fees, costs, indemnities, penalties, expenses or payments due to Custodian required by this Agreement or otherwise, and such amounts remain unpaid 10 days after notice from Custodian, immediately upon the expiration of such 10 day cure period you shall be deemed to, as collateral security for the prompt and complete payment of such unpaid fees or other amounts, pledge, assign and grant to Custodian to the maximum extent permitted by law and the Regulations, a lien on and security interest in all of your rights, title and interests in such portion of the custodial account, the Un-Invested Cash Funds and any other deposit, monies, accounts and other assets in such accounts or otherwise deposited with Custodian at such time in an amount equal to the amounts necessary to pay in full such amounts then due to Custodian. Upon the grant of such security interest as described in this Section 8.12(b), you hereby authorize Custodian to file all financing statements and other documents and take such other actions as may from time to time be necessary or desirable in the Custodian's sole discretion to perfect and to maintain the perfection and priority of such security interest. You understand and agree that pursuant to Section 408(e) of the Code the portion of any Roth IRA funds pledged as collateral may be treated as distributed to that individual and subject to taxes, interest and penalties which you will be responsible for and agree to indemnify and hold Custodian harmless therefrom.

13. Restrictions.

Neither you nor any beneficiary may sell, transfer, or pledge any interest in your Roth IRA in any manner whatsoever, except as provided by law or this agreement. The assets in your Roth IRA shall not be responsible for the debts, contracts, or torts of any person entitled to distributions under this agreement.

14. Applying Laws.

This Agreement is subject to all applicable federal laws and regulations and shall be governed by and construed under the applicable laws of the State of Nevada. If any part of this Agreement is held to be illegal or invalid, the remaining parts shall not be affected. Neither your nor our failure to enforce at any time or for any period of time any of the provisions of this Agreement shall be construed as a waiver of such provisions, or your right or our right thereafter to enforce each and every such provision. Any suit filed against Custodian arising out of or in connection with this Agreement shall only be instituted in the county courts of Clark County, Nevada where Custodian maintains its principal office and you agree to submit to such jurisdiction both in connection with any such suit you may file and in connection with any suit which we may file against you.

15. Asset Valuation Policy.

- a. A statement of fair market value ("FMV") of your IRA will be transmitted to you by January 31 of each year, reflecting the FMV of your IRA as of December 31 of the previous year.
- b. With respect to securities that have publicly available prices, we will use such quoted prices to value those securities. Although such prices are obtained from quotation services and other sources, we believe to be reliable, we cannot and do not guarantee their accuracy and shall not be liable for its good-faith reliance on those quotation services. Where a brokerage account is held as an asset of your account, the FMV shall reflect only the total value of the brokerage account as reported by the brokerage firm to us for the IRA.
- c. With respect to Alternative Assets, you or another party (the "Valuation Agent") chosen by you and identified in writing to us must provide the FMV of such Alternative Assets to us at the time you direct us to acquire such Alternative Asset for your account and, with respect to the FMV of such Alternative Asset as of December 31 of each year (the "December 31 FMV"), you must provide such value by the fifteenth (15th) business day in January, or such later date as we in our sole discretion provide in our asset valuation procedures, of the following year (the "Cut-off Date"). For purposes of this section of the Agreement, "Alternative Assets" means investments that are not publicly traded, many of which are also generally considered illiquid and may include, without limitation, real estate, promissory notes, mortgages, precious metals, and interests in certain entities, including but not limited to limited liability companies, limited partnerships, private equity funds and hedge funds.
- d. You agree that the Alternative Assets such as limited liability companies, limited partnerships, private equity funds, hedge funds, and other similar entities you direct us to accept the FMV for any such Alternative Asset held in your account from the investment entity itself and hereby appoint each such entity (the "Investment Sponsor") as the Valuation Agent for your account's investment in the entity itself. You shall cooperate with us to cause each Valuation Agent to sign such documents as we shall deem appropriate or necessary to confirm the understanding and agreement of the Valuation Agent to its obligation to provide such December 31 FMV to us by the Cut-off Date. Failure of any Valuation Agent to provide a timely valuation shall be your sole responsibility, and we shall not be required to take any steps to secure an updated FMV for your account.
- e. We shall not be responsible for the timeliness or the accuracy of any FMV of any Alternative Asset furnished by you or a Valuation Agent. If you or any Valuation Agent furnish valuations in addition to the required December 31 FMV, we shall reflect the latest valuation received on an asset in your account statements on a timely basis, but we shall have no duty to inform you or to follow up with any Valuation Agent with respect to the status of any such additional valuation. Due to the nature of the Alternative Assets and the manner in which their valuations are reported to us, we cannot be, and are not, responsible for their accuracy and such valuations may not be as of the date of the account statement or online account viewing. Calculations for Alternative Assets from any source should not be solely relied upon by you or your agent for making purchase, investment or sale decisions; you and your agent should consider whether to take additional steps to substantiate the then current value of an Alternative Asset when making any investment decision concerning that Alternative Asset.
- f. We shall have no duty or responsibility to solicit any valuation for any Alternative Asset, including the December 31 FMV, from either you or the Valuation Agent. If we do not receive a December 31 FMV for an Alternative Asset for any year by the Cut-off Date, you hereby direct us to use as the December 31 FMV for such year, the last FMV provided to us, or if none, the original purchase price (each, as the case may be, the "Last Value").
- g. At any point after there has been a failure to provide us with a December 31 FMV for any Alternative Asset for a period exceeding 12 months, (A) we may, but shall not be required to, distribute such Alternative Asset at its Last Value to you, and we shall have no responsibility or liability for any tax, financial, or other consequences relating to or arising from such distribution, or (B) if such December 31 FMV is required to calculate the amount of a required minimum distribution (in accordance with IRC section 401(a)(9)); or if a FMV is required due to a court order or similar circumstance, we may, but shall not be required to, obtain an appraisal for such Alternative Asset from an independent third party, and the cost of such appraisal shall be paid by you or from the IRA. In addition, we may, in our sole discretion and upon notification to you, distribute the entire IRA in satisfaction of the requirements of IRC section 401(a)(9), with any Alternative Assets valued at the Last Value, either (a) at any point after there has been a failure to provide us with a December 31 FMV for an Alternative Asset for a period exceeding 12 months; (B) if a December 31 FMV needed for the calculation of a required minimum distribution has not been supplied to us; or (C) if we know or have reason to believe that the FMV of the account is or reasonably appears to be unreliable or inaccurate.
- h. If it is necessary to value an Alternative Asset due to your death, and a FMV is not supplied to us in a timely manner by the estate, your beneficiaries or Valuation Agent, we may, but shall not be required to, obtain an appraisal for such Alternative Asset from an independent third-party, and the cost of such appraisal shall be paid from the IRA.
- i. We shall have no responsibility or liability for acting in reliance on a FMV reported by you or any Valuation Agent (including any Investment Sponsor) or for the accuracy of a required minimum Distribution calculated based upon the December 31 FMV of an Alternative Asset.
- j. You shall indemnify and hold us harmless from any loss, damages tax or other consequences to you or the IRA arising from or relating to the valuation of an Alternative Asset, including us accepting, reporting and acting upon any FMV supplied by you or a Valuation Agent, or for using the Last Value as provided in this Agreement.

General Instructions. Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise noted.

Purpose of Form. Form 5305-RA is a model custodial account agreement that meets the requirements of section 408A. However, only Articles I through VIII have been reviewed by the IRS. A Roth individual retirement account (Roth IRA) is established after the form is fully executed by both the individual (depositor) and the custodian. This account must be created in the United States for the exclusive benefit of the depositor and his or her beneficiaries.

Do not file Form 5305-RA with the IRS. Keep in with your records.

Unlike contributions to traditional individual retirement arrangements, contributions to a Roth IRA are not deductible from the depositor's gross income; and distributions after 5 years that are made when the depositor is 59 ½ years of age or older or on account of death, disability, or the purchase of a home by a first-time homebuyer (limited to $10,000), are not includible in gross income. For more information on Roth IRAs, including the required disclosures the custodian must give the depositor, see Publication 590-A, Contributions to Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs), and Publication 590-B, Distributions from Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs).

Definitions

Custodian. The custodian must be a bank or savings and loan association, as defined in section 408(n), or any person who has the approval of the IRS to act as custodian.

Depositor. The depositor is the person who establishes the custodial account.

Specific Instructions.

Article I. The depositor may be subject to a 6% tax on excess contributions if (1) contributions to other individual retirement arrangements of the depositor have been made for the same tax year (2) the depositor's adjusted gross income exceeds the applicable limits in Article II for the tax year, or (3) the depositor's and spouse's compensation is less than the amount contributed by or on behalf of them for the tax year.

Article V. This article describes how distributions will be made from the Roth IRA after the depositor's death. Elections made pursuant to this article should be reviewed periodically to ensure they correspond to the depositor's intent. Under paragraph 3 of Article V, the depositor's spouse is treated as the owner of the Roth IRA upon the death of the depositor, rather than as the beneficiary. If the spouse is to be treated as the beneficiary, and not the owner, an overriding provision should be added to Article IX.

Article IX. Article IX and any that follow it may incorporate additional provisions that are agreed by the depositor and custodian to complete the agreement. They may include, for example, definitions, investment powers, voting rights, exculpatory provisions, amendment and termination, removal of the custodian, custodian's fees, state law requirements, beginning date of distributions, accepting only cash, treatment of excess contributions, prohibited transactions with the depositor, etc.

Important Information About Procedures for Opening a New Account

To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, Federal law (Section 326 of the USA PATRIOT Act of 2001) requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify and record information that identifies each individual or institution who opens an account with Preferred Trust Company. When you open an account, we are required to obtain your name, address, date of birth, social security number or tax identification number and other information that will allow us to identify you. As appropriate, we may also ask to see your driver's license or other identifying documents. This information will be verified to ensure the identity of all persons opening an account. The information may be compared to information obtained through third party sources, as permitted by law. If we cannot verify this information, your account may not be opened, or it may be restricted and/or closed. Preferred Trust Company is not responsible for any losses or damages including, but not limited to, lost opportunities you may incur.

Application and signatures are valid for 120 days from the date of original signature.

I release and agree to hold Preferred Trust Company, LLC harmless against any and all claims or losses arising from my actions.

Electronic Signature

The parties agree that the electronic signature of a party to this Agreement shall have the same legal validity and enforceability as a manually executed signature or use of a paper-based recordkeeping system to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, including the Federal Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act or any similar state law based on the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act, and the parties hereby waive any objection to the contrary. This electronic signature shall be effective to bind this Agreement. The parties agree that any electronically signed document (including this Agreement) shall be deemed (i) to be "written" or "in writing," (ii) to have been signed and (iii) to constitute a record established and maintained in the ordinary course of business and an original written record when printed from electronic files. Such paper copies or "printouts," if introduced as evidence in any judicial, arbitral, mediation or administrative proceeding, will be admissible as between the parties to the same extent and under the same conditions as other original business records created and maintained in documentary form. Neither party shall contest the admissibility of true and accurate copies of electronically signed documents based on the best evidence rule or as not satisfying the business records exception to the hearsay rule. For purposes hereof, "electronic signature" means a manually signed original signature that is then transmitted by electronic means; "transmitted by electronic means" means sent in the form of a facsimile or sent via the internet as a "pdf" (portable document format) or other replicating image attached to an e-mail message; and, "electronically signed document" means a document transmitted by electronic means and containing, or to which there is affixed, an electronic signature.
